

"Thank you very much
for the extra effort.
I will make the rest of my organization aware of your services, and especially, your dedication
to customer service."

OUR TRANSLATORS

The proficiency of a translation firm also rests on its external linguists.

3rdevent carefully hand-selects the most accomplished and accredited translators who are top professionals in their respective fields and who are native speakers of the target language. With each project, their goal is to provide translation services that ensure accuracy, correct grammar, and style. In addition, all of our translators are fluent in their respective target languages, combined with at least 10 years of translation experience.

Our translators consist of bilingual attorneys, doctors, engineers, scientists, financial experts, as well as scholars and members of the diplomatic community. They are capable of translating highly specialized documents in diverse areas that match their respective skills. These professionals, possessing a thorough knowledge of translation principles and of the subject matter of their expertise, are familiar with the specific translation standards within their fields.

All translators have been evaluated using our own rigorous battery of tests and through interviews. After this level of scrutiny, our translators fully understand our mission at 3rdevent--to assure delivery of 100 percent correct translations.
